

Supervised off-shore outsourcing for IT operations

Vindia Ltd provides manpower services worldwide to companies that wish to employ people directly and efficiently. We employ programmers, engineers, graphic designers, marketing and content personnel in various fields.

In the last decade the world has become more than a global village, it is already a turbulent metro which moves with the global market's fluctuations and with the uncompromisingly competitive environment created by clients and their providers.

Vindia is the first Israeli western company of its kind, which opens a convenient door to the east for companies and entrepreneurs, offering a variety of unique manpower solutions. India allows any company to enjoy the infrastructure of quality, cheap and efficient manpower overseas.

Vindia reduces costs and risks involved in building infrastructures and work teams, within a short period of time. Our services include recruitment, training, assignment and continuous supply of employees, depending on the client's needs.

Vindia is an Israeli company that employs diversified work teams and skilled personnel in India for the benefit of its clients, and trained designated workers for various profiles within the IT industries: content, marketing, programming and other fields.

Vindia has development centers in India and an administrative center in Israel. This structure allows our clients to enjoy increased liability and responsibility over the work teams, time table management and solutions to problems in a western environment, while retaining the profitability of outsourcing to the east to withstand the uncompromising competition of the global market.

Vindia saves you the travel, uncertain investment, risk and effort which come with building an outsourced work force. India allocates work teams at your disposal, dedicated exclusively to your tasks and under your direct management, within the company's facilities.

Our managers constantly supervise, assist and solve any problem or obstacle along the way. India provides all the infrastructure required for the employees, as well as tools for the management, control and supervision over the work teams.
